All Comments:

Brandy Petrone, ARIZONA COMMUNITY FOUNDATION: ACF support continuation of the Arizona Commission on the Arts; Russell Jones, Self: As a former State Representative for Yuma County, I appreciate the importance to rural Arizona of the Commission and the grants to support the arts around the State, especially those areas that lack wealthy donors to support the creative activities o; Rusty Foley, Self: I am a lifelong Arizonan and arts patron, contributor and advocate. I know firsthand the remarkable work the arts commission does with arts groups, esp. for the economy, youth, veterans care, seniors and others. It is critical to our state.; Lorna Romero, Self: As a Board Member of Arizona Citizens for the Arts, I encourage the committee to support the reauthorization of the Arts Commission.; Shelley Cohn, Self: As a former executive director of the agency and having participated in three sunset audits, I have seen the quality community work done by the agency and believe they have documented the value to the services and programs that they provide; Patrick McWhortor, Self: As CEO of Arizona Citizens for the Arts, I am privy to the impact of artists and arts organizations on our economy and quality of life. Arts Commission funds are the lifeblood for that impact and thus I urge you to recommend continuation.

ARIZONA COMMISSION ON THE ARTS

One of 56 state and jurisdictional arts agencies across the United States, the Arizona Commission on the Arts is a 54-year-old agency of the State of Arizona and a leading force in the creative and professional development of Arizona's arts sector. Through robust programs, research initiatives and strategic grantmaking, the Arts Commission catalyzes arts-based partnerships that strengthen Arizona communities through the arts.

BACKGROUND

Fstablished in 1967

Reauthorized in 1982, 1992, 2002, and 2012

GOVERNANCE

15-member board of non-salaried, Governor-appointed commissioners.

PURPOSE & FUNCTION

Youth Arts Engagement

& Lifelong Arts Engagement Grants

Funding for high quality arts programs for learners across the aging spectrum

Research and Development Grants

Funding support for Arizona artists as they work to advance their artistic practice and expand their creative horizons

Artist Opportunity Grants

Professional development support for creative workers and entrepreneurs

PUBLIC PRIVATE PARTNERSHIPS

PUBLIC VERSUS PRIVATE FUNDING

PUBLIC FUNDING VALUES

Fairness

Public funding should reach all communities; we have a particular responsibility to rural, remote, and otherwise underserved communities.

Access

All Arizonans should have meaningful opportunities to participate in and experience the arts and public funding helps remove barriers to public engagement, such as those linked to socio-economic status, geographic isolation, disability, and age.

Transparency

Public funds should be distributed transparently and in accordance with the public interest.

GRANT DOLLARS DISTRIBUTION, RURAL/METRO FY2019 - FY2021

The pie charts below illustrate how the Arts Commission has strategically adjusted its grantmaking in the past three years to ensure fairer distibution throughout the state. In FY2021, 27% of grant dollars were directed to communities outside Arizona's major metros.

PUBLIC OPINION ON THE ARTS

Recent polling reveals that a vast majority of Americans consider the arts a vital resource, contributing to personal well-being, professional success, and societal health. This overwhelmingly positive attitude toward the arts is especially evident in Arizona, where survey results exceeded national averages in all categories.

"THE ARTS HAVE A SOCIAL IMPACT, IMPROVING THE QUALITY AND LIVABIL-ITY OF MY COMMUNITY." "THE ARTS HELP STUDENTS PERFORM BETTER ACADEMICALLY." "THE ARTS INDUSTRY IS GOOD FOR THE ECONOMY AND SUPPORTS JOBS."

Arizona House Commerce Committees Arizona State Capitol Complex 1700 W Washington St Phoenix, AZ 85007

To the membership of the Arizona House Commerce Committee:

I am writing in support of the reauthorization of the Arizona Commission on the Arts.

In my role as executive director of Prescott Meals On Wheels I am able to state from experience the positive role the Arts Commission has played in the wellbeing of the adults we serve through our program.

One of the greatest challenges our program, and others like ours in rural communities, face are those posed by social isolation. Social isolation is associated with adverse health consequences including depression, poor sleep quality, impaired executive function, accelerated cognitive decline, poor cardiovascular function and impaired immunity at every stage of life. Additionally, loneliness and social isolation can be as damaging to health as smoking 15 cigarettes a day<sup>2</sup> and the senior suicide rate in Yavapai County trends higher than the national average.<sup>3</sup>

For several years, and in numerous ways, we have used creativity and the arts as an intervention for social isolation. Our efforts would not have been possible without the expertise, guidance and resources of the Arizona Commission on the Arts. The Arts Commission has been instrumental in initial funding, introductions to critical stakeholders and providing us with the guidance to imagine what is possible. Without the agency I doubt that we would have gotten our various creative aging programs off the ground.

These programs utilize visual arts, movement, dance, writing and poetry to engage homebound seniors, improving their quality of life through connection and creativity.

As one participant shared, they felt more engaged with others through the program:

TOGETHER, WE CAN DELIVER.

Please remember Prescott Meals On Wheels in your will and trusts.

1280A East Rosser Street
Prescott, AZ 86301
Telephone 928-445-7630 Fax 928-445-1725
www.PrescottMealsOnWheels.com

"It means the world to me that that someone cared about what I had to say. It had been at least 10 years, since when I was working as a social worker, that that had happened. I was overwhelmed with joy and felt very connected to my peers."

From another participant, Bill, a veteran diagnosed with end-stage emphysema and COPD who chose to work with a writer/poet:

"I absolutely loved it. I had been writing my own eulogy and I completed it. I redid the whole thing with help from my arts mentor. I am really happy with it. This program is just wonderful and I hope they continue it."

The arts have never been discretionary. The arts are critical to the vitality and wellbeing of us as individuals, as communities, as regions and states.

The mission of the Arizona Commission on the Arts is bold, relevant and necessary; create opportunities for all Arizonans to participate in and experience the arts. Without the Arts Commission's hand of encouragement, resources and support for every single Arizonan who has a desire to participate in artistic engagement, programs like ours that reach vulnerable populations would be diminished.

In addition to the cultural richness the arts provide, it is very important to consider the economic impact the arts contribute in our state. The arts – concerts, museums, festivals, theatrical productions - are destination drivers that generate significant revenue for the communities in which they reside and the state as a whole. We see this especially in our rural Prescott community and the Arizona Commission on the Arts is a multi-faceted resource for many, if not most, of these endeavors.

As you consider the history, contributions and accomplishments of the Arizona Commission on the Arts, my hope is that you will reauthorize the agency to continue their work with the same dedication, high standards and vision that they have successfully demonstrated since 1967.

In the spirit of creativity,

Bert Elizabeth Ijams Executive Director
