Report 2022

Background
Pursuant to A.R.S. § 41-2953, the Joint Legislative Audit Committee assigned the sunset review of the Arizona Board of Regents (ABOR) to the House and Senate Education Committee of Reference for review.

ABOR is the constitutionally created governing body of Arizona's three public universities (Arizona State University, Northern Arizona University and the University of Arizona) (Ariz. const. art. 11, sec. 5). ABOR is composed of twelve members: the Governor and the Superintendent of Public Instruction (who serve as ex-officio members) and ten members appointed by Governor, two of whom are student regents. These ten members must be confirmed by the Senate and student regents must attend one of the three in-state public universities (A.R.S. §§ 15-1621, 15-1622).

Statute tasks ABOR with exercising the powers necessary for the effective governance and administration of the institutions under its control, including authorizing each university to adopt regulations, policies, rules or measures deemed necessary for the universities' administration and governance. Additionally, ABOR's powers include, but are not limited to: 1) appointing university presidents and staff; 2) fixing tuition and fees; 3) establishing curricula and designating courses; 4) awarding degrees and diplomas; 5) prescribing admission qualifications for students; and 6) annually adopting an operating budget for each university (A.R.S. § 15-1626).

ABOR is set to terminate on July 1, 2022. However, since the state Constitution establishes ABOR, a majority of the vote of the people is required to amend the state Constitution and terminate ABOR (A.R.S. § 41-3022.12).

Summary of Committee Activity
The House and Senate Education Committee of Reference met on January 11, 2022 to review the performance audit and sunset review conducted by the Auditor General, evaluate ABOR's response to the sunset factors and receive public testimony.

Committee Recommendation
The House and Senate Education Committee of Reference recommended that ABOR be continued for five years until July 1, 2027.

Auditor General reports

• Commercial Real Estate
• University Affiliated Organizations
• Sunset Factors
ABOR established by Arizona Constitution

- Governing body for Arizona State University, Northern Arizona University, University of Arizona

- Authorized to exercise powers necessary for effective governance and administration of universities

- May delegate its authority to its committees, university presidents, or other entities under its control
Commercial Real Estate

Does ABOR provide sufficient oversight of commercial real estate on its property?
ABOR authorized to own/lease property

- Statute authorizes ABOR to own and lease property for benefit of State and universities’ use
- ABOR exempt from paying taxes on its property
ABOR has approved commercial leases

Commercial indicates majority of business conducted at property will be from nonuniversity population
Problem identified

- ABOR did not maintain a listing of its property and its uses
- Relied on universities to maintain this information
Problem identified

- We identified more than 1,100 parcels in Arizona potentially owned by ABOR totaling over 11,000 acres

- Universities’ listings included properties that appeared to be owned by other parties and did not include properties ABOR owned
Why this matters

- Lack of complete and accurate property listing limits ABOR’s ability to independently and effectively manage and oversee use of its property

- Example: Inaccurate information about property use in some in university property listings
Problem identified

• ABOR’s commercial real estate policies lacked definitions and guidance for implementing various policy requirements

• Examples: Did not explain how universities should assess economic and tax impacts of commercial leases or how to calculate rent reflecting market rates
Why this matters

Increased risk ABOR may approve leases that primarily benefit private parties rather than the State
Issues with third-party management

- ABOR has 3 contracts with nonprofit Campus Research Corporation (CRC) for operation of ABOR properties
- ABOR delegated responsibility for overseeing contracts to University of Arizona president
Problem identified

University of Arizona presidents did not fulfill oversight responsibilities, including:

• Not approving CRC’s expenses

• Allowing monies to be transferred between properties in violation of contracts
Why this matters

Lack of transparency and accountability for commercial use of ABOR property, which is a public resource ABOR should develop and implement policies and guidance for the universities, and other processes.
Follow-up conclusions

- 4 recommendations addressed
- 5 recommendations in process
- 8 recommendations not yet implemented
University-Affiliated Organizations

Are ABOR’s university-affiliated organization guidelines consistent with recommended practices and did the universities comply with its guidelines?
Affiliated organizations background

- Legally separate nonprofit corporations that carry out activities primarily in support of universities
- State’s universities have established relationships with 19 affiliated organizations
Resource exchanges with affiliated organizations in fiscal year 2019

- $250 million paid by affiliated organizations to benefit universities, including donations and scholarships

- $100 million paid by universities to affiliated organizations for various purposes, including real estate debt service
Recommended practices for affiliated organizations

ABOR’s guidelines reflected many practices
Universities did not always comply with ABOR’s guidelines, including:

- Had expired or outdated agreements or lacked formal agreements
- Lacked complete documentation/disclosure of value or purpose of university resources provided to some affiliated organizations
Causes of noncompliance

• Has not overseen universities’ compliance

• Has not required universities to regularly report information to it about affiliated organization activities and resource exchanges
Why this matters

- Limited universities’ and ABOR’s ability to demonstrate public purpose of resources provided to affiliated organizations and hold them accountable for providing expected benefits

- Limited ABOR’s ability to identify, monitor, and mitigate risks associated with affiliated organization activities
Recommendations

ABOR should:

• Require universities to have written agreements that specify public resources to be provided and benefits to be received

• Regularly obtain information from universities about affiliated organizations’ activities and associated risks and liabilities
Follow-up conclusions

- 3 recommendations addressed
- 3 recommendations in process
ABOR has established processes related to statutory responsibilities

- Setting tuition and fees
- Appointing and determining compensation for university presidents
- Establishing a strategic plan for the university system
- Publishing reports on activities and outcomes
Recommended improvements to ABOR processes

- Oversight of university risk management
- Policy review process
- Conflict-of-interest process
