ARIZONA LEGISLATIVE INTERNSHIP PROGRAM

Program

Interns spend the spring semester working full time in the Arizona State Senate or House of Representatives. Depending on their placement, interns work with partisan staff on issues for their respective parties or with non-partisan staff analyzing public policy for members of a standing committee.

Selection Criteria

- ◆ Excellent written and verbal communication
- ◆ Strong analytical and research skills
- ◆ Mature demeanor and judgment
- ◆ Ability to work in a fast-paced environment
- ◆ Professional work ethic
- ◆ Desire to learn about public policy and the legislative process

How to apply

- ◆ Visit www.AZLeg.gov/AZLegInternships for more information
- ◆ Complete the online application form, including personal statement
- ◆ Obtain two letters of recommendation (academic or professional letters) and an unofficial transcript
- ◆ Submit all application materials to the university intern coordinator
- ◆ Arrange to receive academic credit for the internship (follow university policies)
- ◆ Applicants complete two rounds of panel interviews
- ◆ Applicants are notified of hiring decisions by the last week of November

Compensation

- ◆ $6,000 stipend, paid incrementally on a biweekly basis
- ◆ Full tuition & fee waiver for the spring semester
- ◆ 12 upper-division undergraduate credits or 9 graduate credits
- ◆ Up to $1,000 reimbursement for eligible moving expenses (for residents outside of Maricopa County)

Past Interns

“My experience at the Arizona State Legislature continues to open doors and create new professional relationships. Many people in the professional world are aware of the unique experience you can gain through this internship program.”

~ Kris Beecher, ASU Intern Class of 2016

“I did this internship one semester before entering law school... Many lawyers are not introduced to studying law until it's time for the Court to interpret the law. Through my legislative internship, I had a different insight into legislative intent and the legislative process, which gave me a more well-rounded view of the law.”

~ Theo Nickerson, UA Intern Class of 2005

“Important decisions are being made all around – the expectations are high, the pace is rapid, the learning curve is steep, and the experience is invaluable.”

~Mykelin Myers, NAU Intern Class of 2018

“I had learned a lot about how government should work in theory. This internship seemed like an amazing way to learn the reality – it did not disappoint.”

~ Eric Figueroa, ASU Intern Class of 2007

“To me, there is no better immersive professional experience out there. If you enjoy it, it can be the start of your career.”

~ Bryan Durham, UA Intern Class of 2011
