Speaker Rusty Bowers Selects David Mehl for Redistricting Commission

STATE CAPITOL, PHOENIX – House Speaker Rusty Bowers announced today his selection of David Mehl to serve on the Arizona Independent Redistricting Commission.

“Over the past week, I met with and interviewed each of the Republican finalists,” Speaker Bowers said. “We’re blessed to have such an impressive slate of individuals from which to choose – with each possessing positive attributes that would serve the commission well. I have selected David Mehl. David will bring remarkable experience and leadership to the commission, as well as a profound appreciation for the monumental importance of this duty. I have immense confidence that he will apply the skill and standards that have been a hallmark of his professional success so that he will fulfill this crucial constitutional responsibility to achieve a fair result that reflects our great state.”

David Mehl, a Pima County resident, is the longtime president and owner of Cottonwood Properties, a Tucson-based residential and commercial property development company, which he co-founded with his late brother. He graduated from the University of Arizona in 1972 and earned a master’s degree from the University of Illinois. Mehl is an active member of the Urban Land Institute and a member of the Southern Arizona Leadership Council. He served on the school board for the Pusch Ridge Christian Academy for 18 years and currently sits on the board of Good News Communications.

“I am honored to be selected by Speaker Bowers to serve on the Arizona Independent Redistricting Commission,” said Mr. Mehl. “I look forward to the important work ahead and pledge to carry out my responsibilities as a member of the commission with integrity and fairness for the good of all Arizonans.”
